

POMONA CAPITAL RAISES $4B IN CAPITAL ACROSS PLATFORM CLOSES TENTH SECONDARY FUND OVERSUBSCRIBED AT $2.6B

New York, London, Hong Kong, - Aug. 11, 2022 – Pomona Capital, a global private equity firm specializing in secondaries investing, announced that it raised a combined total of $4 billion across its platform in the past two years. The Firm recently held a final close on its tenth secondaries flagship fund, Pomona Capital X, L.P. (the “Fund” or “PC X”) with commitments of $2.6 billion. PC X was oversubscribed and capped, surpassing its target of $2 billion by 30% and is approximately 50% larger than its predecessor fund Pomona Capital IX, which collected nearly $1.8 billion. The Fund combined with primaries, co-investment interests and its retail product offering have contributed to the Firm’s growth momentum and 23% CAGR in the past five years.

Pomona Capital X, like its nine predecessor secondary funds, seeks to deliver on the fundamental premise of secondaries investing; solving for both growth and value with enhanced liquidity and a lower risk profile. Pomona is one of the earliest pioneers in the secondary private equity investing space, with over 28 years of experience providing efficient liquidity solutions for investors. With offices around the world, Pomona works closely with investors and assets on a global scale.

The Pomona Investment Fund, the firm’s retail product offering, increased by $400 million in assets under management in 24 months or 85% CAGR as the demand by retail investors for private equity continues.

Of Pomona’s recent achievements, Pomona CEO Michael Granoff said, “Over the years, Pomona has executed a differentiated, value-oriented strategy to secondaries investing. Our approach resonates with investors who recognize the long-term attractiveness of private equity but are concerned about risk.” Mr. Granoff added, “Our modest fund size enables us to be nimble, flexible and creative to source what we believe to be higher than market quality assets at a lower than market price.”

Limited partners in the Fund include pension funds, sovereign wealth funds, insurance companies, financial institutions, endowments, foundations, and family offices from nearly 20 countries. Strong support from existing investors was complemented by a significant number of new investors from across the globe.

Today's macroeconomic and private equity environments create interesting, and also challenging opportunities in the secondaries market. "What differentiates Pomona in today's market is our targeted approach and ability to be selective. We are not buying a slice of the generic secondaries market and our focus on purchasing high quality, diverse assets with identifiable near-term liquidity at a measured investment pace is well-suited to the current environment," noted Mr. Granoff.
